A holiday visitor in Topeka is Mr. Rex Miller, of Kansas City, who is a student in the Kansas university. Mr. Miller is the candidate who has been selected from the Kansas students to receive the Cecil Rhodes scholarship to Oxford university, Oxford, England.

Mr. Miller is a guest of Mr. Houghton Albaugh, who is also a student in K. U. The young men are college friends and fraternity brothers, being members of the Sigma Chi.

Mrs. Albaugh gave a luncheon Monday for Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Neusbaum and Miss Bertha Neusbaum, of Colorado Springs, and Mr. Miller. Miss Neusbaum formerly was a student in Baker university.

Mrs. Wendell P. Lyman entertained her bridge club this afternoon.

The largest girls' school in South America has chosen a Kansas girl, Miss Nina Kanaga, to become the head of its piano department. The school is located at Santiago, Chili, and has its piano in its music department. Miss Kanaga will leave Lawrence in January, going to New York, where she will sail for the south. She will cross the Isthmus, and then proceed down the western coast of South America.

Miss Kanaga formerly lived in Hutchinson, and has made her home in Lawrence the past seventeen years. She graduated from the high school with honors, and last June she finished with honors, the department of fine arts of the State university. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and also of the Phi Epsilon.

Miss Kanaga has school and sorority friends in Topeka who will be interested in the news of her appointment.

Mrs. Fred Stewart and Mrs. Lionel Whitney will give a family dinner party Christmas, at Mrs. Stewart's home.

Mr. Herbert Guild, who is a student in Princeton university, and a member of the Princeton Dramatic club, will spend the holidays with a company of Princeton players giving theatrical performances in different cities. He will be in St. Louis at Christmas time, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Guild, will go to that city to spend the day with him.

Much has been written about the "cave dwellers" down in Washington who have snubbed the president's wife because her husband was "in trade." That particular feature of snobbishness was interpreted by a small girl in one of the grade schools in the current events recital. The demure little miss stood up to tell of the president's marriage, as the most important item of public interest that she knew. "The bride," she said, "kept a jewelry store in Washington, and the rich people never liked her because she worked."

A Topeka woman who is living in a distant city, wrote to her father a few days ago that she would be home for Christmas, and in the letter she shyly announced that she expected to be married soon, and that her fiancé would write him, asking his consent, and implying his approval of the match. "Now, papa," she pleaded, "please don't say anything to him to discourage him and get him out of the notion. Myself, I like the idea, and if it doesn't just suit you, have a heart and don't tell him so."

Thus are fathers ever encouraged in an impartial investigation of the men who ask them for their daughters in marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Weightman will give a dinner party Christmas day for fifteen of their relatives.

Miss Lillian Stone, who is to be a New Year's bride, will be the guest of honor at some pre-nuptial affairs next week. Miss Marian Morrow, who is to be Miss Stone's maid of honor, will entertain guests for her one day, and Mrs. W. Johnson of Greenwood avenue, will give a party for Miss Stone. The dates for the parties have not yet been fixed.

The fraternity and sorority houses out on College Hill are closed for the holidays, and the young people, now that the "various dance is over, are free to troop off home, take a look at the old familiar faces, get the accumulation of washing and mending off from their hands, and renew the expense account for the year of the year.

The men at the Phi Delta Theta house who have left are: Mr. Walter Elgie, who will spend the holidays with his people in Shawnee, Okla.; Mr. Herman Elwers, formerly of Topeka, who has joined his family in Independence; Mr. Harold Benton, who is spending the vacation with his father, Mr. Otis Benton, of Oberlin; Mr. Harry Champney and Mr. Arthur Champney, who have gone to Lyons for the Christmas season; Mr. Major Chueck, who will spend the vacation in Salina; Mr. Robert Hasty, who has gone to Belleville for the holidays, and Mr. Edmond Seely, who will pass the Christmas vacation in Norton.

The Alpha Delta men, who will be away during the season are: Mr. Milton Gugler and Mr. Samuel Heller, who have gone to Chapman; Mr. George East, to Lincolnville; Mr. Glen Kassebaum, to Pittsburg; Mr. Paul Kendall, to Capron, Okla.; Mr. J. McCosh, to Longford; Mr. Byron Mitchell, to Dresden; Mr. Preston Palmer, to Hope; Mr. Sterling Shaw, to Kidder, Mo.; and Mr. William Stein, to Halstead.

Judge Hugh McFarland, of the juvenile court, will give a dinner and Christmas party for the boys under his judicial charge Wednesday night of this week in the Guild parlors of Grace cathedral. He will be assisted by a number of friends.

Mrs. Ivan Dibble will entertain her sewing club Wednesday afternoon. Guests of the club will be Mrs. Frank Miller, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Charles Lee, of Boerne, Tex. Mrs. Miller, before her marriage, was Miss Helen Mitchell, and a member of the club. Mrs. Lee is the sister of Mrs. Dibble, and is making an extended visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McGoff.

Mr. Justice and Mrs. Silas Porter will give a family dinner party Saturday at their apartments in the Asbury.

Mrs. Jack Campbell has asked guests for a family dinner party which she will give Christmas day. She has invited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hull, Miss May Hull, Mr. Joe Hull, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Campbell, Sr., and Mrs. E. A. Campbell, and their children.
